

Where do the Candidates Stand on Abortion?

Candidates for State Senate District 17

Emily Brewer

Emily Brewer is pro-life. She opposes abortion on demand, and she supports protection for unborn children.

Emily Brewer opposes the use of our tax dollars for abortion. She also opposes taxpayer funding of abortion providers.

Emily Brewer supports Governor Youngkin's proposal to protect unborn children who can feel pain from an excruciating death by abortion at 15 weeks.

"As a child of adoption, Emily has worked tirelessly to reform the adoption and foster care system by streamlining the process and making it easier for families to provide children with a loving home. Finding children a loving home and making it easier for families to adopt will always be one of her top priorities." -From the candidate's website

Clint Jenkins

Clint Jenkins supports a policy of abortion on demand, which allows abortion for any reason until birth. He opposes any efforts to protect women and unborn children from abortion.

Clint Jenkins supports the radical "Right to Abortion" Amendment, amending the Virginia Constitution to cancel all state limitations on abortion.

Clint Jenkins supports using your tax dollars to pay for abortion.

"It's ridiculous and dangerous that some legislators think they have the right to tell women what kind of choices they can make about their health. Those decisions are only between women and their doctors. These choices are protected by law here in Virginia, and as your Senator, I will fight to keep it that way." -From the candidate's website
